Custom Digital Flags

You can choose from three different custom flag production methods. If you can't decide which is best for your application, call the flag experts at 1.800.445.0563. www.flagandbanner.com/custom-flags.asp

Digitally Printed Standard Shaped Flags

Method One: Digitally Printed Flags

This 21st century flag-making technique uses 4-color process printing machines. These machines make custom flags more affordable and available in quantities of 1 to 1000's. Because of the digital imagery, the designs on the flags can be more complex. The price includes canvas heading with grommets, reinforced fly end and reverse image on backside. Images require vector and/or raster artwork. Pricing is per flag. Call 1.800.445.0653 for large quantity pricing.

Custom Appliqué Flags

Method Two: Appliquéd Flags

This is the oldest form of flag making. Each colored design and/or individual letter is hand cut and sewn on the front and back of the flag, much like quilting. Colors must be chosen from our stock nylon color chart available at www.flagandbanner.com/nylon-chart.asp. This is an elegant process for small runs or when making flags that are too large for digital printing. Almost all American flags 6 x 10 feet and up have appliquéd stars. Vector artwork is required for this process. www.flagandbanner.com/custom-flags.asp

Close Detail

Each color is a separate fabric overlaid and sewn to the flag.

Custom Embroidered Flags

Close Detail of Embroidered Flags

Method Three: Embroidered Flags

The crème de la crème in fine detail and presentation appeal. The design is created using thread looped and layered over and over to form a risen image on your flag. These handsome flags are edged with gold fringe. The President of the United States and formal military ceremonies use this type of flag. Almost all American flags 5x8 feet and smaller have embroidered stars. There are size limitations on these flags. Images require vector and/or raster artwork, see our graphic art requirements at the bottom of page 2. Priced per stitch. Note: This process is not recommended for outdoor use.

Advertising Flags

For thousands of years, the ancient tradition of flag waving and banner display has been used to identify, notify, celebrate and/or express yourself or group. This last decade has brought an onslaught of advertising options to convey your message. There are teardrop flags banners, blade (wave) banners and feather banners, all named for their shapes. www.flagandbanner.com/ad-flags.asp

Feather Flags- Stock Colors

Feather flags fly and flap wildly in the wind and are great attention getters. These flags are best suited for solid colors because their movement with the wind makes them difficult to read.

We have a wide variety of colors and sizes available in stock. Pole sold separately.

See options online:

www.flagandbanner.com/feather-flags.asp.

Simple Appliqué Banners

At FlagandBanner.com you get a variety of banner techniques, materials, styles, and sizes to choose from. We have been making banners since 1975 for individuals, schools, and businesses.
www.flagandbanner.com/Custom-Banners.asp

We are one of the few companies still offering the appliqué process. Each design is hand cut and sewn on the front and back creating a mirror image on back. This elegant quilt-like, process is best for small-run orders or banners too large for digital printing. Design must be solid colors with simple graphics and/or fonts. Vector artwork is required. To read more about this process see page 4 Appliqué Flags.
